

Fig. 6.9-2 At the specified interaction scale the two halves of the hypothesis do NOT co-occur: material retention falls (left, red) but co-moving functional identity falls with it (left, blue; middle, mostly below the 0.70 line), and the world-frame and de-translated field distances are nearly equal (right, on the diagonal) — what is left after removing translation is deformation, not transport.

